About The Bloomsbury Group

The Bloomsbury Group is a Chartered Institute of Building (CIOB) member, specialising in high-quality construction and new-build projects across the South East.

We collaborate closely with architects, surveyors, and developers to bring design visions to life, ensuring projects are delivered with precision, efficiency, and the highest standards of workmanship. Our portfolio includes bespoke residential schemes, commercial developments, and mixed-use projects, supported by a strong understanding of planning requirements, modern construction techniques, and heritage sensitivities where applicable.

Our team includes directly employed trades as well as a network of reliable subcontractors we have worked with for many years. Together, they share our commitment to safety, quality, and professionalism, ensuring every project is completed to the highest standard. From concept through to completion, we pride ourselves on building strong partnerships with architects, offering dependable project management, technical expertise, and a commitment to quality that ensures designs are realised without compromise.

INTRODUCTION

At The Bloomsbury Group we specialise in delivering new build construction projects of every scale and complexity. From concept to handover, our team provides the expertise, resources, and commitment needed to bring ambitious developments to life.

We are trusted by developers, national hotel chains, housing associations, and commercial investors who require more than just a contractor – they need a partner who delivers certainty.

With extensive experience and a proven track record across the South East and nationwide, we have become a first choice for large-scale construction.

Our in-house project managers, engineers, and site teams work closely with architects and consultants to ensure each project is delivered on time, on budget, and to the highest standards of quality and safety. We also manage a carefully curated supply chain, partnering only with companies that share our values of reliability, innovation, and sustainability.

For us, every project is more than a build – it's an opportunity to create spaces that shape the way people live, work, and interact. By combining technical precision with collaborative working, we deliver buildings that not only stand the test of time but also contribute positively to communities.

When you choose The Bloomsbury Group, you're choosing a partner who will stand alongside you at every stage of the journey.

OUR APPROACH

Delivering Certainty, Every Step of the Way

The success of a new build project relies on meticulous planning, precise execution, and proactive management. At The Bloomsbury Group, our approach is designed to de-risk your investment and guarantee certainty from day one.

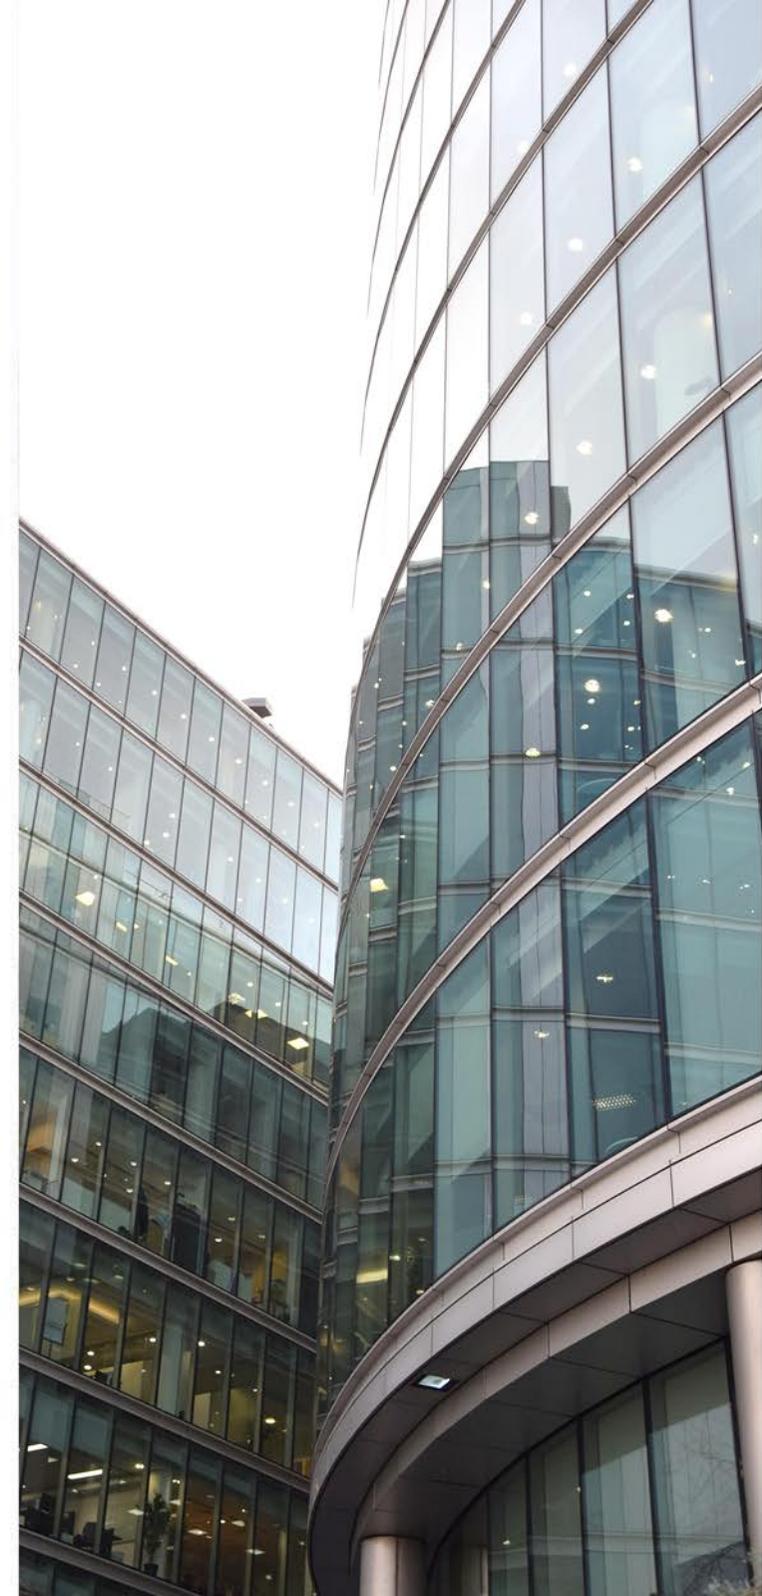

We begin with early engagement, working with your design and consultancy team to identify opportunities for value engineering and to resolve potential challenges before they arise. By investing heavily in pre-construction planning, we ensure smoother delivery once we break ground.

Throughout construction, we maintain complete transparency. Our clients benefit from structured programme management, real-time reporting, and open communication channels. This ensures that progress is visible, predictable, and aligned with project goals.

Our trusted supply chain, combined with robust logistics planning, enables us to manage complex phasing, tight deadlines, and live operational environments with confidence. Safety is built into every stage, supported by our ISO 45001 accredited systems and highly trained teams.

Sustainability is another cornerstone of our approach. From material selection to energy-efficient design, we align with our clients' Net Zero targets and create buildings that deliver both environmental and economic value.

When you work with us, you gain more than a contractor. You gain a proactive partner focused on delivering certainty, quality, and results that exceed expectations.

SUPPORTING ARCHITECTS

Great architecture is as much about collaboration as it is about creativity. Architects bring vision; we provide the structure, systems, and safeguards that allow those visions to become reality. Our role is to support, not overshadow, ensuring that every design intent is respected and delivered with technical precision.

From the earliest stages, we work hand-in-hand with architects to interpret designs in practical terms. That means providing guidance on material choices, construction methods, and sequencing to ensure your ideas can be executed without compromise. By involving us early, architects benefit from foresight that can reduce costly redesigns later in the programme.

We also help architects navigate the ever-evolving landscape of regulation and compliance. CDM duties, fire safety legislation, and sustainability benchmarks can present challenges, but with our expertise, we provide clear, practical advice that keeps your designs compliant and build-ready.

Communication is central to our support. Architects often juggle multiple stakeholders, and we act as a bridge between design, client, and site. By translating design language into construction reality, we give you the confidence that your vision is being upheld every step of the way.

Ultimately, our role is to make the architect's job easier — safeguarding your creativity while ensuring that every project is delivered safely, sustainably, and to the highest standard.

LARGE-SCALE DEVELOPMENTS

Delivering Complex, Multi-Million Pound Schemes

At The Bloomsbury Group, we thrive on complexity. Our track record includes large-scale, multi-million pound projects where technical expertise, rigorous planning, and collaborative working are essential.

From high-rise residential schemes to flagship hotels and mixed-use developments, we manage every element of delivery with precision. These projects often demand careful phasing, detailed stakeholder coordination, and robust logistics planning – particularly in live city-centre environments.

Our teams are experienced in navigating these challenges without compromising on quality or safety. By integrating advanced project management tools and maintaining close communication with clients, consultants, and local authorities, we ensure each project progresses smoothly.

We also understand the commercial pressures developers face. That's why we focus on de-risking delivery – from securing system compatibility to managing supply chain stability. Our partnerships with trusted suppliers mean materials are always available when needed, preventing costly programme delays.

Every large-scale project is underpinned by our commitment to sustainability and future-proofing. We work to incorporate low-energy systems, sustainable materials, and smart design features that enhance long-term value.

Whether it's a 500-room hotel, a major student accommodation scheme, or a mixed-use development, we have the expertise to deliver certainty at scale.

HOTELS & HOSPITALITY

Building Hotels That Define Guest Experience

The hotel industry is evolving rapidly, with developers and operators seeking buildings that balance guest satisfaction with operational efficiency.

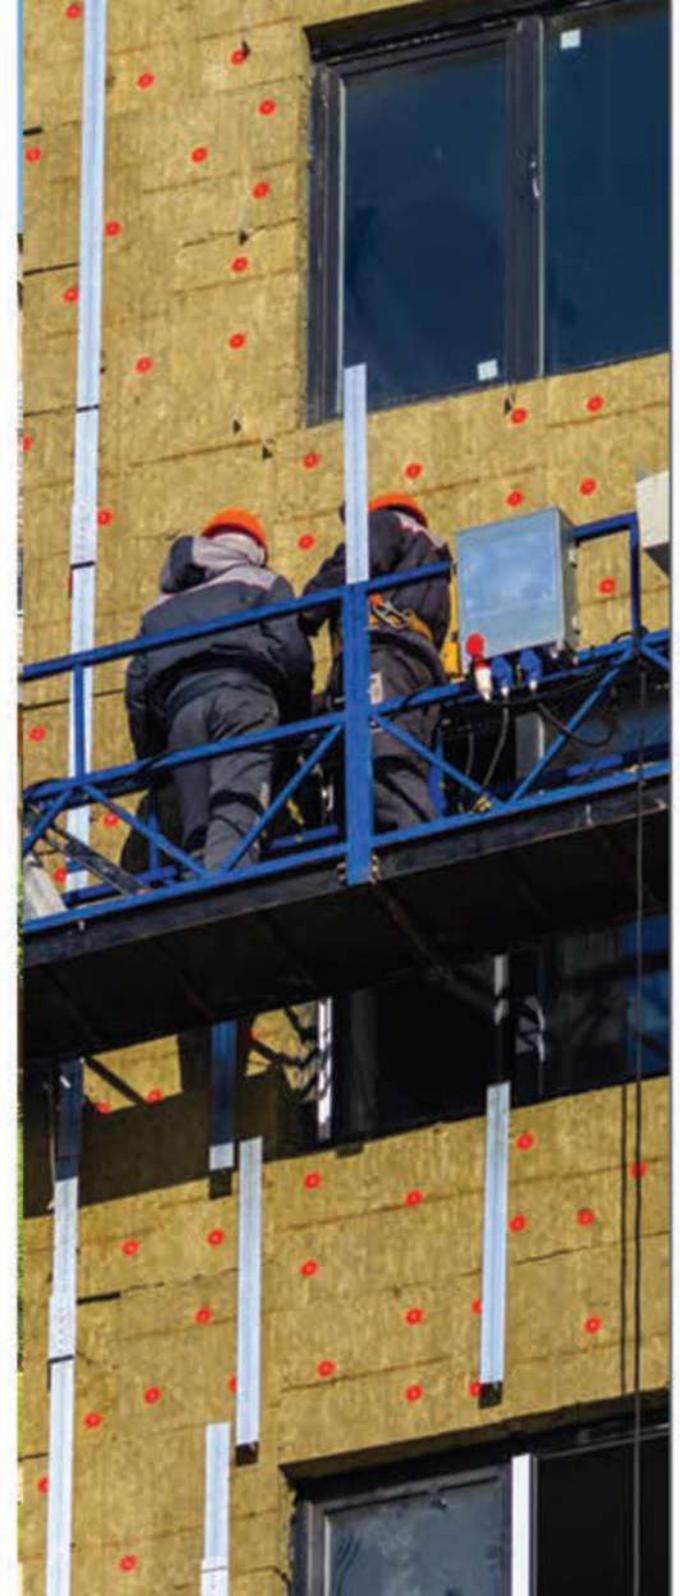

At The Bloomsbury Group, we understand this balance and have delivered hotels across the spectrum – from budget-friendly chains to premium five-star destinations.

Our approach is built on collaboration. From the earliest design stages, we work with hotel operators, architects, and consultants to ensure layouts, facilities, and finishes meet both brand standards and long-term performance needs. We factor in everything from guest circulation to energy efficiency, creating spaces that are welcoming, durable, and commercially viable.

We know that hotels are rarely “just buildings.” They are experiences, often in highly visible locations where every detail matters. That’s why we prioritise high-quality finishes, acoustic performance, and seamless integration of M&E systems that support comfort and efficiency.

Our experience also extends to complex refurbishments and phased handovers in live environments, ensuring revenue streams remain uninterrupted during works. For new builds, our structured project management ensures certainty from breaking ground to the moment doors open to guests.

With a strong record of delivering hotels for major brands and independent operators, we are a trusted partner for those seeking certainty, quality, and innovation in hospitality construction.

SUPPLY CHAIN & PARTNERSHIPS

Trusted Partners, Stronger Outcomes

A project is only as strong as the team delivering it. That's why The Bloomsbury Group carefully selects supply chain partners who share our commitment to quality, innovation, and sustainability.

Our network of trusted suppliers and subcontractors has been built over many years, ensuring we can consistently deliver high-quality results. We choose partners based not only on their technical expertise but also their financial stability, safety record, and sustainability credentials.

One example is our long-standing collaboration with Brymec, a market leader in M&E solutions and a certified carbon-neutral supplier. Their technical expertise, seamless logistics, and sustainability focus complement our values, allowing us to de-risk projects and deliver certainty for clients.

We also value transparency and collaboration. Through structured frameworks and early engagement, we ensure our supply chain is fully aligned with project goals from day one. This reduces risk, increases efficiency, and fosters innovation throughout the delivery process.

HEALTH & SAFETY

Protecting People, Projects, and Reputations

Health and safety are the foundation of every project we deliver. At The Bloomsbury Group, our commitment goes beyond compliance – it's about creating a culture where safety is prioritised by everyone, every day.

We maintain rigorous systems to ensure full compliance with Construction Design and Management (CDM) regulations and all statutory requirements. Our dedicated health and safety professionals work closely with project teams, subcontractors, and clients to identify risks early and implement robust control measures.

Our approach is proactive, not reactive. We conduct detailed pre-construction risk assessments, provide ongoing training, and use regular audits to ensure standards are maintained. Clear communication and transparent reporting keep clients fully informed at every stage.

We also understand that safety impacts more than just the workforce – it protects programmes, budgets, and reputations. By maintaining strong safety records, we minimise disruptions, avoid costly delays, and provide peace of mind for our clients.
